

English Homework

1. Ans. Once, there lived a girl named Komal. She was a very mischievous girl. She has a huge interest and love towards plants, flowers, birds but she never realized that they too have life like us and they can also get weak and die someday. One day her mother had to go somewhere and asked Komal to take care of the plants but she totally forgot about what her mother has said her. After two days her mother came back and was really disappointed and angry by the sight of plants in a hungry, thirsty and weak condition. She ^{was really} scolded Komal. Later Komal regretted and realized her mistake.

2. Ans.

St. Joseph School, Pune

NOTICE

8th Oct, 2021

Language Week

It is to inform you that our school is conducting language week celebrations for all classes. In this language week students will be able to improve their speaking skills and also understand the benefits of language. Interested students can send their entries to their respective class teachers. Your participation and support would be highly appreciable.

Nita

(VII 'A')