

Allons à l'école.

Translation

Today we go to ~~go to~~ Manuel's school. We take the first street on the left, then we go ~~st~~ straight ahead and turn right and there is! we are in front of the school. It's a great school. It has a ground floor & two floors. The sports field is behind the school. Manuel's classroom is on the second floor. In the classroom, there are ~~chair~~ tables, chairs for the students, a desk & a chair for the ~~students~~ teacher & a blackboard. There is also a map of France against the wall. The students put the books & notebooks on the table. They learn several things: science, mathematics, languages, history, geography, computing, drawing etc. They read books. They write in notebooks & the teacher connects the homework. On the teacher's table, there are white, pink & blue chalks. Manuel loves the music lesson he's playing guitar.