

Interview

1) Journalist - How did you deal with the taking of this courageous step?

School child - My father had challenged me to fight and show my bravery.

2) Journalist - What challenge did your father had put on you?

School child - My father challenged me to sleep alone in the office room as I always slept beside my grandmother so any changes in the arrangement made frightful.

3) Journalist - What did you feel when you saw something moving in the darkness?

School child - When I saw something moving in the room I imagined that if it was a devil. I crawled out of the bench, caught hold of it and dug teeth into it.
