Dear Diary,

How are you? Hope you are well. That's good, but I am not in a good mood because today was my test, but you will be thinking why my mood is bad after the test, actually it was my fault that I read the test schedule wrong. Today was my social science test but I thought it was English. I read the chapter bit and read late upto late night. When my teacher handed me the question paper and when I saw the subject I felt like ~~dumb~~ numb and my mind was completely blank. But when I saw the question I felt a sight of relief. But you will be thinking why I am still sad? actually there were also many questions I didn't know and my ~~exam~~ test didn't go as expected and my today's day went like this only. Good Night. We will again meet tomorrow.

Rohan
