We often hear of people fighting over religion. Do you think this is right? Give reasons

I think we shouldn't fight over religion because:

- i) All religions preach love, tolerance, non-violence and forgiveness.
- ii) We have fundamental right to follow any religion because all religions believe in equality of human beings.
- iii) We should respect all the religions and love people belonging to different religions because we all are human beings and our primary duty is to serve the Man kind.
