

Do you know Jeanne d'Arc? She is a great heroine in the history of France. This girl ~~from~~ sixteen years old lives with his very pious parents in the village of Domrémy in Lorraine. His father is a farmer and he has some sheep. Jeanne helps her mother and she also keeps ^{some} sheep. One day to look after some ~~the~~ sheep she is in the sheep.

One day she is in the field with some sheep. She hears a mysterious voice. The voice said "Jeanne, Jeanne, go save France from the enemies". She is scared. She hears the same voices everyday. So she goes to king Charles VII. She asks the king for an army. The king gives an army and puts Joan at the head. It leads the army against the enemy. She wins an important victory in Orleans. Then she wins a lot of victories and finally Charles becomes the king of France.

Joanne is happy but king Charles is having fun and does not wage war. Soon the enemy attacks, arrests and takes Joanne prisoner in Rouen. He declares that Joanne is a witch and burns Joanne at a stake. Now in Rouen there is a statue of Joanne d'Arc and a beautiful church at the stake. The french do not forget the great heroine of France and she is the eternal symbol of courage, patriotism and dedication.
