

HOME WORK

classmate

Date _____

Page _____

This story is about a series of letters that tells a touching story about friendship and dealing with disabilities because she has only one hand. Here writer was asked to help a girl in the class and become friend of her and show the school. At first she hesitated but later they became good friends by exchanging letters. Writers started respecting her because girls were doing many things for her with just one hand. ~~So~~ Being a disabled girl she became a good friend of writer by their kind nature.