

3. Why are icebergs dangerous for ships?

Ans - An icebergs is a large piece of ice which floats on water. It is much larger than it seems because most of icebergs sit under water. If a ship do not know how large is an icebergs then it can causes great danger.

4. More people live in the south of Greenland than in north. Why do you think this is so?

Ans. more people live in the south of green land ~~because~~ than in north because - south of green land is warmest. Part and rest are coldest so more people live in south of greenland.