

So the cool air from the sea
blow towards the land and
people don't feel very hot.

H.W

1. Even on a very hot day, people in coastal areas do not feel very hot. why?

Ans- Even on a very hot day, people in coastal areas do not feel very hot because coastal experience less contrasts in temperature.

water has a higher heat capacity than land. The ocean takes much longer to heat.