Rivers

Rivers are found everywhere in the world. There are slow and fast rivers, warm and cold rivers. A river is a natural flowing water body containing freshwater. It flows towards a big water body such as an ocean or sea. In some places, the river flows into the ground and gets dry before meeting another water body. Rivers generally flow through mountains, hills, valleys, plains.

and other geographical locations.

Water in the rivers comes through, various sources. Rivers are the best place of tourism like river rafting, boating, cruise ship travelling, etc.
