

More people live in the South of Greenland than in the north. Why do you think this is?

Ans. More people live in the South of Greenland than in the north because in north there is very cold with falling of snow. The people can't survive because it is located in the polar region. The South part is the warmest part of Greenland. So that is why more people live in the South not in the north.