

1) What is the name of present President of India?

Ans) The name of the present President of India is 'Ramnath Kovind'.

2) Who elects President of India?

Ans) The President of India is elected by an electoral college consisting of members of both the houses of parliament and the legislative assembly assemblies and legislative councils of all the states and union territories.