

1- write a paragraph on how you express your love and care to your parents and teachers

WHAT I HAVE LEARNT.....

One of the greatest ways to show our parents that we love them is by asking them for advice. This shows them that we respect their thoughts. It also shows them that we think that they have made wise choices and have wisdom to share.

Also, a simple "thank you" is a great gesture. Parents sacrifice a great deal for their children while they are growing up. We can thank them for providing home cooked meals, placing bandages on our knees, and staying up through the night when we were sick.

Also, a simple "thank you" is a great gesture. Parents sacrifice a great deal for their children while they are providing home cooked meals, placing bandages on our knees, and staying up through the night when we were sick.

And possibly the most important way we can express love to our parents is by simply spending time.

It doesn't take too much to show love to parents. Actions speak louder than words. A good start would be to always thank them for everything as you grow up. This shows

WHAT I HAVE LEARNT.....

Your appreciation for all the things they do for you. After all a lot of parents go without thinks for themselves to give a education and like to their children. Next there are opportunities through out the year for doing this - don't miss birthdays, mother's day, father's day, easter and christmas there are all perfect opportunities for showing appreciation - and it doesn't have to cost a lot to show love. This was a home made card.

Teachers play such a significant role in our lives and we are thankful for all that they do every single day.

Whether they are for me, teachers, current teachers, teachers of little loved ones, or just teachers in our lives, we understand how important their job is in student development and learning. There are so many things that come to mind when I think of the word "teacher" and many, many, people that immediately think about because they have had such a huge impact on my own life. And I know I'm not the only one, it was hard to narrow down only 7 things to love about teachers.

They teach us new things and help us discover our passions.
