Hello I am Mr. crow. Now I am going to narrating the incident that happened with me and fox. One day I was playing with my friends. After the game my friend offered me a piece of cake. Then I thought I would take the piece of cake with me and have it comfortably in my nest. Which was in an old mango tree.

Then a fox was passing by under the tree and looked at me. Then he flattered me using good thing about me. The fox said that "I am a handsome bird" "I have such gorgeous feathers". "If I would only sing the birds of these woods would call me King"

Then what happened I very happy listening the words of the fox and open my beak to sing. Piece of cake fell from my beak. Then the fox quickly grabbed the piece of cake and ran away. Before leaving the place he gave me an advice not to listen flattery words of anyone. I learnt that never give importance to the flattering words.
