

10/01/2022
Monday

HOME WORK

- Early on winter mornings we see drops of water on parked cars and plants. Why?

Ans: During the night when the hot air comes into contact with the cold surface, water vapour present in it condenses on the cold surface in the form of droplets.

- Therefore in early winter mornings we can see drops of water on the parked cars and plants. This is because of condensation.