Think about the Poem

Q. 1. What do the phrases mean to you? Discuss in class.

(i) hinnid shadows
refer to the dark clouds that produce rain.

(ii) Starry Spheres
refer to the night sky abounding in stars.

(iii) 'What a bliss
refer to the happiness of the poet when it rains.

(iv) A thousand dreamy fancies
into busy being shut
This refers to the various imaginary thoughts and fantasies that are aroused in the poet's mind.

(v) a thousand recollection weave their air threads into wof.
This phrase means that numerous memories intermingle to form a beautiful picture that the poet recollects.

2. What does the poet like to do when it rains?

When it rains, the poet feels delighted to lie with his head pressed against the pillow of his ~~bed~~ cottage chamber and listen to the patten of the soft rain.

3. What is the single major memory that comes to the poet who gave the "dancing"
he refers to?

The single major memory that comes to the poet is that of his mother and her fond looks.

3.7.21

The "dangling dreamers" are the poet and his siblings in their childhood when they were lovingly put to sleep by their mother.

- 4. Is the poet now a child?
Is his mother still alive?

No, the poet is not a child now. He is grown up man. He remembers her when he is inside his cosy cottage and enjoy the pattern of rain on the roof.

- 11. 1. When you were a young child, did your mother tuck you in, as the poet did?

Yes, my mother used to tuck me in when I was young child, just like the poet's mother did.

2. Do you like rain? What do you do when it rains. Steadily or heavily described in the poem?

Yes, I like the rain. When it rains steadily I get into my house and enjoy the weather with family. We enjoy tea. It is wonderful experience.

3. Does everybody have a cosy bed to lie in when it rains? Look around you and describe how different kinds of people or animals spend time. Look shelter etc. during rain.

No, everybody is not fortunate enough to have cosy bed to lie in when it rains. Not everybody gets to enjoy the comport of cosy tea homes during rain. I have seen animals seeking shelter under trees and under the tin roofs of the small roadside tea stalls. The people passing by shoo away these animals and try to shrink themselves under the limited space of these shops. The poor animals are left shivering and drenching on the roads. The shopkeepers of such stalls are delighted as the people waiting for the rain to subside after end up buying tea and snacks.
