

4) According to the king the real culprit was the merchant. Actually, the merchant's father was the real murderer but he was dead, the king came to the conclusion that the punishment would be carried out on the merchant. He escaped the punishment because he was too thin to fit the stake.

5) The Guru's words of wisdom were that, the city of fools and their unpredictable behaviour could create danger anytime. He advised the disciple to leave the city because he would not know what they would do next. The disciple remembers these words when he was going to be executed.

6) The Guru tricked the king & his ministers by saying that the stake belongs to the god of justice & the first & second executed would be the king & minister in their next birth. Without any further delay the foolish king & his ministers executed them. This Guru's witness help him to save his life.