evergreen

11.1

Subject: English

(a) The lotus is proud of its beauty and so compares itself to the sun. It feels better and the sun has no fragrance. The sun utters no word of concern or praise. Even the black mud nourishing the roots of the lotus keeps quiet, as it is not like the lotus or the sun. It does not long for any praise or recognition. It knows that everything has its own place or value.

11.2

- (i) ~~with~~ intelligence
(ii) admire.
