Nuclear Family

By Surendra Mishra

What is a Nuclear Family?

A family which contains 2-5 members. It is very common today in cities. It is a autonomous family which is free of control of elders. The proportion of nuclear family is increasingly populated in cities.

We have some Advantages and disadvantages. So first lets check the advantages are the study environment for child will be good. Wife can give more time to children and decorate her house according to her choice no elders can interfere. They can name a family planning and their is less misunderstand. All family members like in freedom.

*) Parents are responsible for their children. So they share their things responsibility mutually. They can do their financial planning easily. Disadvantages family elders gets divided. Both the economic responsibilities is on both husband and wife. Children become bad in nuclear family because of Independence. Children do conflicts with their elders which leads a big conflict.

Finally I want to say that the children don't get the love that they want from parents.
