

Narrate Shankar's meeting with the snake

Shankar was sleeping in his room. Something touched his leg. There was no light. He was given a torch when he saw there was a snake. He was trying to bite his leg. He removed his leg from that place and when he started to get up, snake followed him. He was mistakenly locked the room. He left the key in his bed. Then by mistake some one has the duplicate key and opened the door and he ran away from that place. He from that day never went to that place again. And he created to with the help of his friend Rohit.
