

The new girl faced many problems in school. She had a prosthetic hand, which seemed quite unusual and so, everybody stared at her. She always stood in a corner, and never interacted with anyone else. Everyone laughed at her. She felt very lonely, and also everyone stared at her.

The speaker