Write a character sketch of 'The Narrator' in about 100 words.

The narrator is very friendly and open-minded in nature. When she was advised as the mentor for the new girl, she disliked it a bit, because of the problems she has been through due to the new girl. She was also very curious about the new girl too, because one of her hands was artificial. Because of the new girl's shy nature, everyone bothered the narrator with questions. Narrator expresses her all feelings about the new girl in her letters which she never send. There she advised her to be a more social and play with others rather than standing in a corner. Gradually, when the narrator spend time with the girl, she learnt many things about her and their relationship improved. Soon they became friends.
