

Concave mirror /
Convex mirror

Concave mirror \Rightarrow

A concave mirror is made by silvering on the outer surface of a hollow sphere such that the reflection takes place from the inside hollow or concave surface.

Convex mirror = a convex mirror is made by silvering on the inner surface such that the reflection takes place from the outer convex or bulged surface.