

Homework

1. Equality is the right of every person. The constitution has made several laws to protect the weaker sections of the society. The rules are:

- Nobody can be discriminated against on the basis of their race, caste, religion etc.

- If this right is violated, the person can seek its enforcement through a court of law.
- ~~A~~ The government has also made several concessions for girls and women like a reservation of 33% seats in the parliament for women, education of girl child etc.

2. The right to ~~eq~~ equality is one of the most important fundamental rights the Constitution of India gives its citizens. This means that no one can be ~~disc~~ discriminated against on the basis of their gender, religion, ~~a~~ caste, race or economic status. The fundamental rights also ensure that the citizens of India have the right to practice the religion of their choice.

it will stop
If everybody will be equal then:

- ~~Bad~~ Prejudice will stop
- Discrimination on the basis of colour
- Discrimination on the basis of caste.
- ~~It~~ Stop Stereotypes

- Inequality
- Economic inequality
- Gender inequality