Dear Phisti,

You will be tempted to purchase certain books ^{based} ~~related~~ to non-violence after this letter. Its without arrogant that this time my ~~ad~~ ~~to~~ ~~er~~ adventure might reduce your naughtiness.

Recently I met Sabarmati Ashram with my family. There I visited a library, mountain of books related to Mahatma Gandhi and his experiments and advices for the nation. I got a book, containing his tolerance and ~~no~~ violence faced by him which was discoursed by the caste-supporters, regarding his ~~maintainance~~ maintenance in England. I learnt that how he protested and spoke strongly against the protocols, which was interfering between the three practises and his stredies. ~~which he was forbidden to do~~ He faithfully gave the three voices

~~(not to taste alcohol, meat and should not eye the other women) he to his mother before he left for England. Here, I received~~

There mentioned that he ~~had~~^{was} often punished ~~not~~ not to get safeguarded by anyone. He faithfully gave the three vows (not to consume alcohol, meat and should not eye the other women) to his mother before he left for England.

I hope MahaBapu's great contribution would have inspired you.

~~Write soon~~

Write soon.

Yours affectionately
