

old communication

The oldest methods of communication were smoke signaling, carrier pigeons, and telegraph.

new communication

The modern ways are more convenient and efficient. For example television, cell phones, internet, E-mails, social media and text message.