

1

~~Flamingo~~
Siberian crane

2

European roller

3

Robin
Robin

Arctic tern

A

Spotted sapsucker
spotted sapsucker

Fleming's Siberian crane

The Siberian crane, also known as the Siberian whist crane or the snow crane

Siberian crane cross Russia from the north to south with brief migration stopovers.

They rest for the few weeks at large wetlands in ~~nor~~ northeast China before their long and rapid passage to Poyang Lake in the middle portion of the Yangtze River floodplain.

Siberian crane are found in east Asia.

European Roller

European Roller are ~~locate~~ located in Europe.

They migrate from Europe to Arabian peninsula.

Teacher's Signature

Robin Robin

- Robins can be found year round almost anywhere south of Canada.

Arctic Terns

- Arctic terns are long-lived birds.
- They live with many reaching fifteen to thirty years of age.
- They mainly fish and small marine invertebrates.
- An arctic tern soars over Iceland.
- These ~~se~~ small birds have one of the longest annual migrations of any animal on earth.
- They migrate from Arctic circle to the Antarctic circle.

Spotted Sandpipers

- They migrate from United States to central South America.

Teacher's Signature