Dear Diary,

Today I accidentally saw a beggar near the Supermarket. She was hungry and holding a broken stick. Also she can't even walk properly. At that time I was going into the shop. I enter the shop, then in a hurry I buied all the things that mom told me to. When the last two ingredinets came it was chips and chocolate. When I was picking them I thought about the beggar and insted of the chips and chocolate I buied some biscuits. ~~am~~ After paying I rushed to the beggar and gave her the biscuits to eat and water to drink. Also I gave her some money that was left out. When I came back home I told my parents about it, they where proud of me. When my little brother heard about it he said good work but next time take some extra money so that you can feed the beggar and also you can bring my chocolate.

My lovely Diary, thank you ~~for~~ and also good night.
