story on write a clever cap-seller

Date _____
Page _____

It was a hot day. A cap seller was going to a fair to sell his caps. His way lay through a thick forest and he was ~~so~~ ^{so} tired. So he decided to take some rest under a big shady tree. Soon he ~~was~~ ^{was} fast asleep. There lived many monkeys on the tree. They saw him wearing a cap ~~on~~ ^{on his} head. They came down, opened his bundle and took the caps and wore them on their heads. Then they climbed up on the high branches of the tree.

After some time, the cap seller woke up. He found his caps not there. The caps were ~~missing~~ ^{missing}. He felt very gloomy and looked around for them. All of a sudden, he looked up and saw the monkeys wearing the caps. An idea struck his mind. He at once took off his own cap and ^{threw} ~~threw~~ it on the ground. He knew that monkeys are good imitators. The monkeys also ~~took~~ ^{threw} their caps down. He collected all his ~~own~~ caps and went his ^{way} ~~outward~~ to the fair.

I was ~~not~~ ~~only~~ only a year * than ~~the~~ Valodya. We were quite close. We grew up, studied and played together.
No distinction of elder and younger was made between us. But just about the time I am speaking of.
I began to realize that I was no companion for him, either in age, in ~~interests~~ interests, or in ~~ability~~ ~~ability~~ ~~ability~~ ability. It even

Seemed to me that Valodya himself was aware of his superiority and was proud of it. This idea it may have been a wrong one was inspired by my vanity which suffered every time I came in contact with him. He was better than me in everything at lessons, in arguments and in manners, and all this took me farther from him and caused me moral anguish which I could not understand. When Valodya was given a tucked linen shirt for the first time I was ~~unhappy~~ unhappy for not having a shirt like that. I am sure I would ~~have~~ have felt happier if I was convinced that every time he arranged his collar, it was not done to annoy me. But there was nothing I envied so much as Valodya's happy large heartedness which ~~showed~~ showed itself most strikingly when we quarrelled I ~~am~~ always felt that he was behaving well but I could not do like wise. ~~at~~ once when his passion for ornaments was at its height I went up to his table and accidentally broke an ~~empty~~ empty bright-coloured little & scented bottle I knocked it over by accident and it broke. Do me the favour never dare touch my things again; he said putting the pieces of broken to quarrel ~~or~~ 'With you,' said Valodya, giving me a slight push. 'go away' ~~and~~ ~~and~~ 'Get away, ~~and~~ Don't push, Don't push, I tell you!' Valodya took my ~~was~~ ~~Word~~ Word and tried to drag me away from the table, but I was besides myself by now. I got hold of the leg of the ~~table~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~table~~ table and tipped it over. "There now!"

And all his china and glass ornaments ~~crash~~ crashed to the floor.

Flask together and looking at them sorrowfully. And you please don't issue orders! I retorted, 'that's all.' And I smiled, though I did not feel in the least like smiling. 'Yes, it's nothing to you but it does matter to me,' I pursued Valodya, jerked his shoulder, a gesture he had inherited from papa. 'He goes and breaks it and then laughs, the nasty little brat!' 'I am a little brat, and you're big but you're ~~stupid~~ stupid!' I am not going
