

The poet when calls the peacock as 'a flash of turquoise' the mind of reader is filled with the coloured, green and blue images of the peacock. A blue shadow" again in second stanza casts a wonderful image of the peacock in its rich colour.