

COMPASS

Uses of a compass : →

The compass is used for navigation, location and directions.

People use it to find their way while they are on a trip.

It keep you following a straight line of travel.

It is a instrument composed of a suspended magnetic pointer that is attracted to the polarity of the north pole.