

Difference between Rain fed and snow fed rivers.

Rain fed

Snow fed

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1) Rain fed rivers are formed with streams produced by heavy rain on the hill. | 1) Where as snow fed rivers formed with melting of snow of the mountain. |
| 2) The examples of the rain fed rivers are the Kaveri the Godavari the Krishna and the Mahanadi. | 2) The examples of the snow fed rivers are the Ganga the Yamuna and the Brahmaputra. |
| 3) Rain fed rivers are found in the Deccan plateau region. | 3) Where as snow fed rivers are found in the Himalayan mountain ranges. |