

Title of PDF Document

This is the subtitle of PDF, Use long text here.

07/2021

SAQs

1. Where were Rajvin and Pranjal were going and why?

Rajvin and Pranjal were going to Assam as Pranjal ~~had~~ were going to Assam as Pranjal had invited Rajvin to spend summer vacation there.

2. In what ways is China related to tea?

Tea was first drunk in China. The words 'Chai' and 'Chin' are from Chinese. There is a story about a Chinese emperor who always boiled water.

Title of PDF Document

This is the subtitle of PDF, Use long text here.

before drinking. ~~One day a few leaves of the tea fell in~~

3. This is tea country now, explain this with reference to Assam.

Assam has the world's largest concentration of tea plantations in the world. A large number of tea gardens can be found there. Most of the tea grown in Assam is supplied all over even the world.

4. Describe the legend associated with the discovery of tea.

There are two legends that are associated with the origin of tea. The first one is about a Chinese emperon who used to drink boiled water. One day a few leaves of the twigs fell into the boiling water and they gave it a delicious flavoun. It is said that they were tea leaves. The other is an Indian legend. Once a Buddhist monk had cut off his eyes to avoid sleep during meditations. Ten tea plants grew out of his eyelids. The leaves, when added in boiling water and then consumed, banishes sleep.

Title of PDF Document

This is the subtitle of PDF, Use long text here.

5. Describe the view of the Dhakiabani tea garden.

There were tea bushes here and there. Against the densely wooded hills, a sea of tea bushes spread over a vast area. Over the tiny tea plants were tall ~~sharp~~ stony shade-trees.

There were orderly tea bushes. They looked majestic. Rajin had never seen such a view of tea-gardens. So he was greatly excited to see them for the first time.