

ans) In Saudi Arabia women wear the abaya when they go out of the house. Some women also cover their faces with a niqab. They can't wear any other clothes as this is a rule of their country. But in India women can wear any types of clothes. These are some differences between the women of Saudi Arabia and women of India.