

Early on winter mornings we see drops of water on parked cars and plants. Why?

Ans Early on winter mornings we see drops of water on parked cars and plants because of condensation. During the night ~~time~~ when the hot air comes into contact with some cold surface, water vapour condenses on the cold surface in the form of droplets. It is ~~see~~ called as dew