

WHAT I HAVE LEARNT.....

Parents are the most valuable and beautiful gifts given by God to us, who play an immense role in developing our physical, mental, social, educational status in life. I spend time with my parents. I help my mother in house chores. We play various games together and the most important thing, I listen to them whatever be the matter. I thank God ~~every day~~ ~~every day~~ every day for choosing them as my parents and it is a matter of pride for me. Teachers are the ones who play pivotal roles in our lives. They mold us in a well shaped manner. They change our life in such a manner that make a child normally and ethically strong. We are the luckiest ones who have the best teachers. I become very attentive in ~~the~~ classes so far listen what my teacher teaches.

WHAT I HAVE LEARNT.....

Q2 One day when I was returning from shop to home with my sister in the middle of the road we saw a man who was very hungry he was begging to the people around him but no one was giving him anything. When I saw that beggar and my sister immediately went to the beggar and gave him some snacks like biscuits, drinks, cakes etc. that we have bought from the shop. After that we have bought from the shop. After that the beggar was very happy. After that the beggar was very happy. After that ~~that~~ I am feeling very proud of myself because that day I am ~~able~~ able to make anyone smiling by helping. So, we should always help poor people.
