Reading

- 1) The members of ladderless window cleaning company are the giraffe, the pelican, the monkey and Billy.
- 2) The company initially proved to the Duke of Hampshire that ~~that~~ they were good at what they did by picking the big black juicy cherries from the tall cherry tree. They offered the cherries to the duke who was highly impressed by their efforts.
- 3) They called themselves the ladderless window-cleaning company because they could clean any window at any height without using a ladder. The tall giraffe with his long neck was like a ladder. The politician would hold water in his beak like a bucket and the monkey who would use his hands to do the cleaning. This way each of them

4) We can imagine the monkey polishing the glass with all his strength. The glass is so squeakily clean that its shine appears like that of brass, and it sparkles like the rays of the sun. Sparkle like the rays of the sun sparkle on the sea. Another image the monkey creates is one where all the three animals are working so hard, that we can see their face. They look as though they are blue with sweat and toil.
