Dear Sweta,

Hope you are fit and fine in Delhi. As you know only 2 days are left for my autumn vacation and I am super excited. I have decided to first complete my autumn holiday assignments. My father has told me that we'll visit some ~~exit~~ exciting places in Odisha. Then I will contribute my time to badminton, football, maths and my family. I will try to complete the novel that I had received in my birthday. I will celebrate Dusshera with lots of enjoyment. I am really missing you back here. Hope we meet some day. Stay ~~at~~ safe from Covid-19. May you and your family stay safe and blessed. Love you Sweta, miss you.

Yours,

✍ Anuradha

(H) Ju is a practical and friendly girl. She is simple, she likes making friends. She liked being called Ju because it is easy to remember. She has always got hand me down clothes, books. She helps others. She keeps others foreakes safely and secured. When Ali gifted her new clothes after the death of her father it was the first time she had received new clothes.

- 2-) Hamid being a four year old is very caring for his grandmother, by suppressing his own wants he fulfilled his granny's needs. The valuable things are simply useless in front of Hamid. He bargains with the shopkeeper. It surprises me that his witty answers and shrewd responses had outwitted his friends from making fun of him. These instances show us that Hamid acted maturely in 'Iqbal - festival of Eid'.
- 3-) It was a difficult task to move the piano in the van when William was in the van stuck. Others had to double the effort for him. When William was carrying a medicine cupboard he broke and wasted a lot of medicines. When he was up the chimney to 'help' stuck he gave everyone shock and a heart attack, and everyone got panicked in order to make him come down.
