- * A new constitution was introduced which denied the vote to non-propertied sections of society. It provided for two elected legislative councils.
- * They then appointed a Directory, an executive made up of five members. This was meant as a safeguard against the concentration of power in a one-man executive as under the Jacobins.
- * However, the Directors often clashed with the legislative councils, who then sought to dismiss them.
- * The political instability of the Directory paved the way for the rise of a military dictator, Napoleon Bonaparte.

Q14. How did France become a constitutional monarchy? Why were women disappointed by the constitution of 1791?

- Ans) • The National assembly completed the draft of the constitution in 1791.
- Its main object was to limit the powers of the monarch.
 - These powers instead of being concentrated in the hands of one person, were now separated and assigned to different institutions - the legislative, the executive and the judiciary.

This made France a constitutional monarchy. Women were disappointed by the constitution of 1791 because it reduced them to passive citizens. They demanded the right to vote, to be elected to the Assembly and to hold political office.

Q15. When and why did Louis XVI recognise the National Assembly? Why is 4th August 1789 significant?

- A15) In the countryside rumours spread from village to village that the lords of the manor had hired bands of brigands who were on their way to destroy the ripe crops. Caught in a frenzy of fear, peasants in several districts seized hoes and pitchforks and attacked chateaux. They looted hoarded grain and burnt down documents containing records of manorial dues. A large number of nobles fled from their homes, many of them migrating to neighbouring countries.

Faced with the power of his revolting subjects, Louis XVI finally accorded recognition to the National Assembly and accepted the principle that his powers would from now on be checked by a constitution.

On the night of 4 August 1789, the Assembly passed a decree abolishing the feudal system of obligations and taxes. Members of the clergy too were forced to give up their privileges. Tithes were abolished and lands owned by the church were confiscated.
