

Worksheet - 2

Q1) What are the powers of prime minister & president of India?

Ans) The prime minister of India is the head of the government & has the responsibility of executive powers.

→ He exercises general supervision of different ministries.

→ The prime minister distributes & redistributes work to the ministers.

President

→ The president is the supreme commander of the Indian armed forces.

→ The president can declare war or cease of peace, on the advice of the union Council of Ministers headed by the prime minister.

→ All important treaties & contracts are made in the president's name.